

Metro Housing at MRVP Cookie Day

Cookie Day is an advocacy event where families, providers, elected officials, and community members unite to expand and deepen the impact of MRVP. The event earned its name from the tradition of families and advocates handing out house-shaped cookies to elected officials as a reminder to support MRVP.

The top priorities for Cookie Day 2023 were to increase MRVP's funding for FY24, codify the program into state statute, and decrease the amount participants spend on rent from 40% to 30% of their monthly income.
